PEACE TREATY
TALKS GO ON

Hopes Of Early Agreement Fade: Powers Are Deadlocked

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, May 3.—High-ranking delegates to the four-power foreign ministers conference expressed the opinion today that barring some spectacular and completely unforeseen development, there was little hope that any peace treaties would be agreed upon at this session.

The ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia and France were scheduled to meet with Yugoslav officials at Luxembourg palace at 3 p. m. (100 a. m. EDT) today to discuss revision of the Italian-Yugoslav frontier.

British, United States and French delegates also interpreted a request yesterday by James P. Byrnes, U. S. secretary of state, for revision of the Italian and other armistices as an indication that hope was vanishing rapidly for an agreement on peace treaties in the near future.

Some sources said the only chance for the conference to succeed would be for V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, to make a number of unexpected concessions.

The Moscow radio, indicated Russia did not endorse Byrnes' most far-reaching proposal—a four-power mutual assistance pact to prevent Germany from rearming for at least 25 years.

In a broadcast today, the Moscow radio, heard in London, said the proposal falls far short "of the aim of preventing the rebirth of militarist Germany."

BY BUS STRIKE

East Liverpool Valley Area Is Affected As 100 Drivers Quit

EAST LIVERPOOL, May 3.—A strike by approximately 100 AFL bus drivers today halted public transportation provided by the Valley Motor Transit Co. in five cities—an area populated by about 140,000 persons.

Tied up were bus operations in East Liverpool, Steubenville, and Wellsville, O., Chester and Newell, W. Va. In addition, service was stopped on an inter-city run from Steubenville to Beaver, Pa.

Drivers walked off their jobs after taking buses to the garages at 2 a. m., leaving hundreds of steel mill and pottery workers to reach their jobs by walking, hitch-hiking or ride-sharing.

Handicapped were approximately 7,000 ceramic workers, 2,000 steel workers and 600 high school students normally relying on busses to get to work and to school.

The drivers, members of the Amalgamated Association of Electric, Street, Railway and Motor Coach Employees, voted 88 to 5 in favor of a strike to enforce demands for a $1.20 hourly wage rate.

Under a contract which expired April 30, drivers received a base rate of 84 cents hourly plus a bonus of two cents.

Rail Shipments Curtailed
As Coal Strike Continues

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 3.—Drastic curtailment of the nation's railroad service was ordered today, as President Truman voiced open alarm at the acute situation created by the prolonged soft coal strike.

The rail curb order clamps a ban on virtually all freight shipments except fuel and food and directs a 25 per cent cut in passenger service on coal-burning railroads. Approximately three-quarters of the nation's passenger mileage relies on coal.

The curtailment services go into effect a week from today, and the Office of Defense Transportation warned that "much more severe" measures would be necessary if the strike does not end.

The presidential alarm over the strike's effects was echoed in high administration quarters where predictions were made the "whole industrial economy will be seriously crippled within 20 days" if the mines continue idle. The strike entered its 33rd day today.

Settlement negotiations still gave hint of an early break. Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the mine owners, reported the past four days had been "completely" wasted.

Situation Serious
Mr. Truman described the picture as a very serious situation at his news conference yesterday. He said he viewed it with alarm, but he indicated the government was not yet ready to take any new steps in the dispute.

The rail service curb order was issued last night by Col. Monroe Johnson, head of ODT. It limited freight shipments to necessities, with priority for livestock, live poultry, perishable items, and these special classes of commodities:

1. Coal, coke, charcoal and petroleum products.
2. Food and feed.
3. Printing paper and printing inks.
4. Medicine, drugs, surgical instruments and hospital supplies.
5. Shipments moving under special permits.

Freight traffic originating on and destined for points on a railroad not using coal-burning locomotives will be allowed, regardless of the character of the shipments.

On the passenger service reduction, the order left it to the individual railroads affected to work out their own methods for carrying out the 25 per cent cut.

Desperadoes Trapped After All Hostages Are Rescued

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Prison officers battled through a hail of bullets within a cell block at Alcatraz federal prison in a bloody fight today to corner a group of convicts led by six of the nation's most desperate criminals.

Warden J. A. Johnston named the six ringleaders who, he said, seized arms and shot several officers the convicts had held for more than seven hours as hostages in a desperate but unsuccessful break for freedom.

Ten hostages were rescued, all but one of them injured, three critically. Guard Harold P. Stites was killed. The coroner's office reported he was machine-gunned apparently from close range.

The list of injured on the embattled island reached 14, and as the gunfire continued into the second day there was a possibility of more.

All Hostages Rescued
In Washington, Director James V. Bennett of the Federal Bureau of Prisons said all hostages had been rescued.

The latest report from the rugged island prison in San Francisco bay indicated the "situation is still precarious," although the convicts had been pinned down to a series of cells within the concrete building which had been their fortress in the bitter warfare.

Johnston said the convicts who took hostages "in their plot, to make a mass escape" were:

Joseph Paul Crezter, 35, serving 25 years for bank robbery, five years for escape from McNeil Island prison and life for murder of an U. S. marshal at Tacoma, where he was on trial for escape from McNeil.

Bernard Paul Coy, 45, Louisville, Ky., armed robbery.

Miran Edgar Thompson, 29, Amarillo, Tex., kidnapping and murder.

Sam Shockey, 36, kidnapping and bank robbery in Muskogee, Okla.

Public Recreation

Most cities long ago recognized the importance of public recreation and established as one of the necessary items of expense a fund for maintenance of parks, playgrounds and other recreational facilities. Supervised programs were provided and expanded to meet the community's constantly growing participation. Gaining momentum shortly after the first World War, this participation in even the smallest communities has taken on greater proportions as the veterans return from World War II.

Salem has lagged behind many other communities in this meeting its responsibilities. Given a start 40 years ago when Centennial park was given to the city, little or nothing was done for many years to take advantage of its possibilities as one of the finest recreational centers in the district. What has been done in more recent years has been too meager for proper development. Civic organizations have aided, and the army of sports-loving people in the community has contributed its share when pleas for adequate public funds fell on deaf ears.

The fund was increased for this season's maintenance, but not in proportion to the mounting demands for public use, especially of the ball diamonds. The park commission has done a noble job with the funds at its command, and Joe Kelley, as recreational director, has done a marvelous job of organizing and supervising the summer programs. But now he faces a task that cannot be performed adequately without further assistance. Up to the present nine teams were the most ever represented in the Class A softball league. Now he has 18 teams organized and, because he cannot take care of more, the 19th team had to be turned down. In the Class B league, for younger boys, 10 or 12 teams will be ready for the opening games next week.

These leagues represent some 400 young men and boys. They cannot be accommodated sufficiently to hold their interest because there are only so many daylight hours each evening and only five playing days a week. These groups do not include three hardball teams organized for this season's play. And they do not take into account scores of others who would be glad for the opportunity.

The great increase in interest is due in large measure to the training and experience received by the boys who served in the war and who now want what they, and others, believe their community should provide them—adequate recreational facilities.

Something needs to be done about this now, not late in the season nor next season. The park commission believes it can provide the answer to the problem by spending some $2,500 of the $5,000 appropriated to it by city council for flood lights. These lights would make possible the doubling-up of the schedule so the south diamond at the park could be turned over to the Class B boys. Without some such provision the latter may be without a playing field. The commission has the right to spend the money for such a purpose, but it would not leave sufficient money to take care of park labor. Council could bridge that gap by digging up a little extra money. And that's exactly what it should do.

The city owes this much, and more, to its returning veterans. When they left for service and while they were in the thick of battle they were made many promises; nothing was to be too good for them when they returned. Well, about 2,000 of them have returned. It's time to make at least part of those promises good.

The Danger Of Promising

The long history of efforts to find a homeland for the Jews is pretty largely a record of hopes that weren't quite realized and promises that weren't quite kept. The latest incident, the report of the Anglo-American committee on Palestine, strikes no new notes.

A problem that has remained insoluble since Zionism crystallized as an organized effort in the Middle Ages isn't likely to yield to any easy solutions proposed in our time. Indeed the Anglo-American committee does not seem to have been seeking a solution, but only a palliative to relieve the suffering of a comparatively few Jews under emergency conditions. In London, the Jewish agency for Palestine has pointed out promptly that the report leaves untouched the central problem of homeless Jews in Europe. That problem is in the magnitude of millions; the number of additional Jews to be admitted to Palestine immediately is only in the magnitude of thousands.

The commission's proposal, the newest promise, has intensified the wrath of Palestine's Arabs. The question is what Great Britain, the United States, the United Nations, or any of the separate nations which have given moral support to Zionism in the form of promises can do to keep those promises. They are dealing not alone with Jews who want refuge, but with Arabs resisting growth of the Jewish colony in Palestine. The issue is not clearly between right and wrong, which would be relatively easy. It is between conflicting versions of right. Until Palestine's Arabs can be persuaded to broaden their point of view, the issue will remain unsettled.

A Poll Might Help

Generalissimo Stalin's observation in his May day speech in Moscow that forces of international reaction are hatching plans of a new war and therefore the Soviet Union must remain vigilant, raises the question of the identity of these sinister plotters.

From where Russian statesmen stand to survey approaching danger, the forces of international reaction probably are situated chiefly in Great Britain and the United States. Perhaps they see, also, possibilities of danger in a resurgence of militant nationalism in Germany and Italy, though they know best how impotent these formerly powerful nations have been made by their defeat in World War II. Or the Soviet statesmen may have in mind the potentialities of danger in Europe and China, where millions of human beings have been denied even a semblance of security for so many years that revolution and violence have become almost the established way of life.

Russian statesmen are not alone in awareness of approaching danger. In the United States, in Great Britain, in all the countries of the world there is a sense of frustration in the quest for security. It has been generated for the most part by apprehension of Russian intentions, a kind of reaction as fearsome as anything Stalin sees from his observation post in Moscow. There is a feeling that the quest for peace may be blocked if it collides with Russian aims; that it may be doomed if Russian aims collide with convictions held so deeply they must be preserved at any cost, even war. Yet, in all these countries and in Russia, too, the people abhor war and want it outlawed as an instrument of national policy.

That is the enigma of our day—the vast disparity between what the masses of the people of every nationality want and the bloody mischief their spokesmen may blunder into with their demands and counter-demands in the deadly game of pride and prejudice called diplomacy. The people do not want more war. An international public opinion poll might help statesmen to realize that when they speak of war they are voicing misgivings of their own ability.

A Social Handicap From A Physical Ill

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FOR some people excessive perspiration is not only a nuisance but a real social and economic handicap. In these cases, sweating, particularly under the armpits, is very profuse and there is likely to be an offensive odor. This condition is known as bromidrosis. Various preparations can be used to check sweating, but in these severe cases such treatment gives but slight relief and even that is only temporary. X-ray treatment has been attempted but this does not always work either.

Gland Operations

Dr. Keith Kahn of New York City, has treated a number of patients with this condition by means of an operation in which the glands in the armpit, which secrete the sweat, are removed. Before doing the operation he gives the patient a dose of potassium iodide. Then the armpit is dusted with starch.

In from five to fifteen minutes iodine appears in the perspiration, and when this combines with the starch, it makes a blue color. This dark-colored area on the skin is then outlined with some dye or stain.

Area Varies

It is interesting that this area varies in people among the two sexes. In men, the area is inclined to be oblong, and in women oval in shape. The more limited the area, the greater is the chance for relief by means of the operation. If the area is too large, complete removal of the glands is not possible.

Great care must be taken in performing this operation because too much tissue is removed, a scar may form which will limit the movement of the arm. Furthermore, following a removal of the tissue, a skin graft must be done to prevent deformity. Hence, it is only the most active glands which are removed at the time of operation.

In carrying out the operation the hairy region of the armpits is shaved, and antiseptics such as iodine and alcohol are applied. After the operation, the wound is covered with gauze soaked in 70 per cent alcohol and then a dry dressing applied which is held in place by adhesive tape.

Dressing Changes

On the fourth or fifth day, the dressing is changed for the first time, and then every other day until healing is complete. Healing in this region of the skin is usually slow.

Following operation, X-ray treatments may be employed, but they should be mild and carried out by an expert, so as to avoid any danger of X-ray burns.

Of course, such radical treatment would appear advisable only in the most severe cases of bromidrosis. Milder cases can be more satisfactorily treated in simpler ways.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

ARMY ENGINEERS TO BEGIN WORK ON OHIO RIVER FLOOD CONTROL SYSTEM

(By Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, May 3 — It's the Ohio river versus the army engineers now that congress has approved appropriations for the War department's prodigious flood control program in western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and northern West Virginia.

U. S. army engineers have long maintained they could harness the Ohio's rambling river with a system of dams and reservoirs on its headwaters and had made some seven-league strides toward proving their contention when the war halted all operations.

Col. W. E. Lorence, army district commander at Pittsburgh and the man in charge of basing the mighty Ohio said:

"We're moving in as fast as congress gives us the money. The war years flood control work almost as a dead step except for maintenance on projects already built up now were practically back to normal."

A bill earmarking $303,845,250 for navigation and flood control projects has been passed by congress and now awaits President Truman's signature.

Eight Dams Now Operating

Eight dams and reservoirs in the western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio areas are now operating and have been given credit for reducing effects of floods occurring since their construction. Current appropriations will help finish the big job.

One of the most important objectives of the huge flood control project is protection for the city of Pittsburgh where recurrent disastrous floods have done millions of dollars worth of damage. Indirectly, the entire region will benefit, engineers say, through reduction of soil floods, prevention of water pollution and improved recreational and navigational facilities.

In general, the dams and reservoirs will work like this:

When high waters come swirling down the Ohio, the dams will back up the floods into waiting reservoirs. Then, when the flood crest has receded—many miles above the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela at Pittsburgh—the impounded waters will be released gradually and streams below the dams will be kept at uniform levels. As soon as reservoirs are emptied, they will be ready for the next threat.

Given the time and money, army engineers say they can make impossible such floods as that which devastated the Ohio river valley in 1936 and covered parts of Pittsburgh with 46 feet of water. Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce has estimated that more than a half-billion dollars damage has been done in Pittsburgh-Wheeling area since pre-revolutionary days.

Present Reservoirs Listed

The eight reservoirs which comprise the flood control system at present include:

The Tygart reservoir near Grafton, W. Va., built across the Tygart river at a cost of $18,500,000, is given credit for saving Pittsburgh $2,000,000 in flood damage during its first two years of operation.

The Mahoning creek dam near Dayton, Pa., finished in 1941 at a cost of $6,500,000 after two years work, collects water from a 341-square mile area.

The Mosquito creek reservoir on a tributary of the Mahoning river is located above Warren, O., before that river reaches the Beaver river, an Ohio river tributary.

Berlin Reservoir: Vital The Berlin reservoir, near Alliance, O., serves the Youngstown, Warren and Niles area and prevents flood waters from rolling on to the Ohio river.

Projects being studied for which appropriations for further surveys now await presidential approval include:

The Shenango reservoir in Pennsylvania and Ohio, $100,000; Eagle creek reservoir on the Mahoning river in Ohio, $90,000; the Allegheny river reservoir near Warren, Pa., $155,000.

Col. Lorence said those projects might be started next year if final approval is given and if congress appropriates the necessary funds.

Feasibility of night airmail was demonstrated by a night and day relay of flights from coast to coast begun Feb. 22, 1921, with the trip being completed in 33 hours and 21 minutes of elapsed time.

MISS VITO: Beau-catcher.

Scarf-Glove Set Easy To Make

Scarves whipped up at home out of bright cotton remnants and worn with dash, mark a triumph of ingenuity over a wardrobe shortage for the girl who is also a little short on cash. Because glamor girls in the big-time do, why don't you?

Now that you've been persuaded, Elaine Vito, radio harpist with a reputation for chic to defend, steps up to guide your hands.

A yard of 36-inch wide gingham, she says, cut in half and sewed together at the ends, makes a whopping beau-catcher to tie under your chin. Describing her simple procedure, Elaine says she shapes the ends of the scarf into triangles, and from there cuts toward the center to reduce 18-inch width to a narrow 5 inch for better neckline fit. Then the scarf is hemmed all-around.

The needle-handy Elaine also makes gloves to match her scarf. A tip to the ambitious who want to do likewise is to use for a pattern a pair of old fabric gloves cut apart by severing tops from palms.

Miss Harris Is Bride In Home Rites

A tangle of flowers banked with palms and ferns made a beautiful setting for the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Harris of Salem and Walter Warrington of Damascus at noon Thursday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, R. D. Salem.

Rev. Lawrence Ray, pastor of Phillips church, performed the single ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Charles Vincent sang, "Because," and "I Love You Truly" with Miss Geraldine Hively as accompanist. Miss Hively played the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bride descended the stairs.

Given in marriage by her brother, George Harris, the bride was attractively gowned in a creation of white satin. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and a full floor-length skirt. She wore a brooch which her great grandmother wore at her wedding. Mrs. Carl Bailey, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was costumed in a formal white net gown over taffeta. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Scarf-Glove Set Easy To Make

Scarves whipped up at home out of bright cotton remnants and worn with dash, mark a triumph of ingenuity over a wardrobe shortage for the girl who is also a little short on cash. Because glamor girls in the big-time do, why don't you?

Now that you've been persuaded, Elaine Vito, radio harpist with a reputation for chic to defend, steps up to guide your hands.

A yard of 36-inch wide gingham, she says, cut in half and sewed together at the ends, makes a whopping beau-catcher to tie under your chin. Describing her simple procedure, Elaine says she shapes the ends of the scarf into triangles, and from there cuts toward the center to reduce 18-inch width to a narrow 3 inch for better neckline fit. Then the scarf is hemmed all-around.

The needle-handy Elaine also makes gloves to match her scarf. A tip to the ambitious who want to do likewise is to use for a pattern a pair of old fabric gloves cut apart by severing tops from palms.

Guard Overpowered

The break was reported to have started about 3 p. m. (P.S.T.) yesterday when a guard, Bert A. Burch, armed with a rifle and a .45 caliber pistol, was overpowered. Burch was quoted as saying he was accosted by Coy and possibly others and was struck over the head.

Coy's prison job was to clean gun galleries. It was reported he overpowered the guard there, helped himself to weapons and threw a master switch to open all cells in the block.

Other guards rushed to Burch's aid and they were captured by the well-armed desperadoes, who locked them up. Some of the prison officers were shot and all of them were reported beaten.

At the sound of the alarm, other prisoners on the rocky island in San Francisco bay were herded into the prison yard. Marines landed, well-armed boats patrolled the waters, and the prison officers began exchanging gunfire from outside the building with the convicts in cell block C, on the pinnacle of the island.

Convicts, guards reported, obtained keys to all doors of the three-story building except the building exit.

The statement of the bureau of prisons director said he did not understand how the guns could have been captured in view of prison precautions. He said he believed no prisoners had escaped.

Heavy exchanges of fire characterized the battle during daylight, and guards used tear gas, but the convicts were reported to have obtained gas masks. The spectacular fight from the building's fringe raged until nearly midnight, after which the battle continued inside.

Europeans' Daily Meals Sink Below Nutrition Level

Map above, prepared from government figures, shows sharp contrast in the food-energy consumed by Europeans before the war and the inadequate supply now available to them without outside help. Only three nations—Denmark, Sweden and Czechoslovakia—have domestic food supplies capable of providing the 1500 calories per day per person considered as minimum for maintaining health. At least five would face starvation without outside help. Meanwhile, Americans have 110 more calories per day per person than they did in prewar days.

FANNIE BROWN: Model-maker.

For Natural Look In Using Mascara

Don't bemoan the fact that you weren't born with a luxurious fringe of long, black eyelashes. Those of you who have short, thin, light-tipped lashes can "thicken" and "lengthen" them to rival the most beautiful fringes you've seen with a clever application of mascara.

"But there are several 'musts' to observe when accenting lashes, if you are to avoid an artificial look," warns Fannie Brown, a top-flight model who instructs aspiring young models about correct make-up at the Barbizon Studio for fashion modeling.

First, choose a waterproof mascara, she advises, and use two brushes instead of just the one. After rubbing mascara well into the damp bristles, brush them through the lashes. For the best effect, concentrate the heaviest application on the outer half of the upper lashes.

Then take a clean wet brush and go over them immediately to separate the hairs. This will give lashes a natural, rather than stiff, beaded look.

Never apply mascara to the lower lashes if you have "shadows" under the eyes, warns Miss Brown. It usually adds five years to your age.

STATE SENATOR

The only Republican candidate from Columbiana County, for State Senator, in May primaries.

Age 47. Educated in state of Indiana. Served in World War I. Spent boyhood on farm. Fifteen years prior to World War II I was identified with the Wright Tool & Forge Co. in this district.

On account of shortage of supplies, I am now a railroad conductor.

My years of experience and my association with the industrial workers, railroad men and the fact that my boyhood days were spent on a farm, I believe, qualify me to undertake the responsibility of representing all the people of this district as their State Senator.

If elected to this office, I will do all I can to conserve the confidence placed in me by the citizens of this district, consisting of Belmont, Columbiana, Jefferson and Harrison counties.

Baby Specialist, At 83 Still Willing To Learn

CLEVELAND, May 3—At 83, Dr. David R. Williams of Girard, O., has delivered 2,232 babies in 55 years of general practice. But he still wants to know what science is doing to help the stork.

Attending a three-day seminar on obstetrics and pediatrics at Western Reserve university, he said today: "Babies come into the world the same way they always did, but these scientists are always finding out new things. Things go on all the time. "Down in Youngstown we have a refresher (course) every year and I haven't missed one in Cleveland next year back."

Dr. Williams paid a trip to medical research. "I can tell you that if I were 55 years old today, I'd live to be 125. I have all my teeth besides."

"I would eat the exact amount of calories that I needed—no more and I'd obey all the health rules."

ST. PETER'S CHURCH, Rome—This is a place as you can climb to Heaven in Rome—under your own power.

We are in the great bronze ball that holds aloft the cross above the largest and highest church ever built by man, the stupendous and beautiful basilica of Saint Peter.

This church makes the Egyptian pyramids look like something built from kindergarten blocks. If mankind ever reared anything more lovely than this, time must have leveled it in envy.

From the ground the big brass ball that surmounts Michelangelo's famous cupola looks no larger than a baseball. But once you get inside it you find there is room for 16 people to stand in its circle—if they don't mind a little crowding.

It is a fitting crown for a church which has seen the ground space of Saint Paul's cathedral in London and about two and a half that of Gothic Notre Dame in Paris.

Getting atop the main roof is simple. You walk over from the bronze statue of Saint Peter, whose right foot has been worn almost away by the kisses of thousands of faithful pilgrims through the centuries, and take a modern elevator to the top. Forty years ago you would have had to walk up, and near the last step are engraved in marble the names of many kings and queens who had to go the staircase route in the years before Otis.

The climb is made in stages. My companion was bearded Jack Thompson of the Chicago Tribune, who relaxed during his days by making combat jumps with the paratroopers.

When we reached the cupola our legs were shaky and Thompson complained mildly: "My beard is getting heavy."

The cupola is 138 feet wide and 45 feet high. You can walk around it and see the people on the main floor look like a congregation of ants. The acoustics are so perfect that if you speak in a low voice against one wall, a person on the other side can hear you better than someone standing only 10 feet away.

Leaving the cupola, we climbed

Dad Must Go To Jail If Son Fails In School

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Common Pleas Judge James C. Connell ordered a Cleveland father today to serve 10 days in the county jail if his 16-year-old son fails again in his seventh grade studies.

School authorities said the boy already had failed twice, was lagging in current studies, had chronically cut classes and often was absent and tardy. Efforts to interest his parents in the situation have been unsuccessful, they told the judge.

Judge Connell found the man guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and levied the 10-day sentence—to be served if his son fails again.

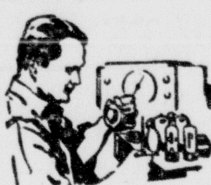

series after series of twisting stone stairs, each getting narrower and narrower, until we were dizzy and our knees knocked together in weakness.

We were so weary we had to crawl one foot at a time up the last steps of the vertical iron ladder leading into the bronze globe. We lay there panting for several moments. Then Thompson roused enough to brace himself against one metal side and peer out through a small slit.

"What a wonderful place to hide out from a city editor," he said.

GERMAN PW'S TO BE FREED

Tedious Task Will Be Completed By American Forces This Year

(By United Press)
FRANKFURT — Disbandment of the last 700,000 German war prisoners held by the United States forces will be completed by Oct. 1. The German affairs division of the United States Forces in the European Theater announced that all war prisoners now detained either will be released, interned as civilian prisoners or turned over to other Allied governments by that date. Completion of the task of disposing of an estimated 5,000,000 prisoners held at war's end will sever the last remaining threads holding the once-mighty Wehrmacht together. Freeing the prisoners will eliminate any semblance of organized German troops, although all individual units already have been broken up.

155,000 After July 1
Col. P. S. Lauben, division chief, said the prisoner total would drop to 155,000 by July 1. That number will include those needed for labor purposes this summer, as well as "automatic arrestees" who face immediate arrest as civilian internees upon their discharge.

It was disclosed recently by USFET that 88,000 internees now were in custody, with approximately 20,000 expected to be released by review boards. Lauben said an estimated 75,000 prisoners of war would move into the internee category when freed.

USFET officials also disclosed their disappointment over captured German army supplies. Both supplies and equipment of the Wehrmacht, despite stories of the magnitude of stocks including foods, clothing, cooking equipment and other normal civilian needs were found to be so low at war's end that there was not enough even to meet the needs of the prisoners.

American military officials had hoped to use much of the German supplies to meet the requirements of the civilian population during the occupation.

Priorities Set Up
Disbandment of the Wehrmacht prisoners began last summer under a priority basis. After security screening by American military officials, German miners, farmers and transport workers were the first to be returned to civilian life where they were needed to maintain the economy.

Later women and men under 18 or over 45 were freed, after screening. This brought the remainder of prisoners down to a hard core of workers who were split into labor units to work for the Americans.

FIVE SULLIVAN BROTHERS WHO CAME BACK

UNLIKE THE SULLIVAN brothers of Waterloo, Ia., who were killed in action, these five Minneapolis Sullivans, who felt the heat of battle, are now home to tell about it. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sullivan, the boys are, left to right, back: Donald, 21; William, 25; James, 31, and front: Edward, 23, and Arthur, 25. Their mother removes the five-star flag for her sons who came back with an aggregate of 15 years of service.

Under inter-zone transfer arrangements with the French, British and Russians, prisoners whose homes are in zones other than the one in which they are detained, are exchanged. Exchanges with the French and British have been virtually completed but only a few transfers have been effected with the Russians.

Lauben said Russian exchanges now are increasing. The speedy disbandment of war prisoners is in compliance with Lt. Gen. Joseph McNary's February military governor's report which also ordered the hiring of German civilian laborers by the military where necessary.

Crushed By Tractor
ELYRIA May 3—Arthur Whitney, 23, was injured fatally when a tractor plowed him against the flooring of his house as he was attempting to excavate a basement yesterday.

PULL UP A SEMI-COLON and sit down while we tell you what it means. The lovely lady is Marguerite Chapman, whom you've seen in the movies, no doubt. Her new title is given above in code because that's the only way it would fit in one line. It was given to her by the American Veterans committee and makes her "The Girl We'd Most Like to Share Our Home Under Wyatt's Housing Program." What a title—what a gal!

Diamond Dust

By DON E. BEATTIE, News Sports Editor

HAVING CONSIDERED THE National softball league personnel yesterday, a glance over the American league rosters also shows a considerable number of newcomers to Class A at Centennial park this summer.

Again, picking the best is a tough proposition. However, it is easy to see at a glance that the returning 1945 teams in the American league—the Sinclair Oilers, Leetonia Crescents, Mullins and Eagles—are going to be well represented again this season.

CONJECTURE AS TO WHICH of the teams has the most all-around power brings to light several angles. In the first place, it is generally conceded that Mullins, with Johnny Zines on the mound, has the best pitching available in the league. But Mullins lacks power in departments in which others are well-stocked.

For instance: Leetonia's Crescents and the Championship Sinclair are both extremely well-balanced clubs, especially in fielding and hitting. Neither outfit boasts a speedy pitcher, but both Chet Brautigam of Sinclair and John Clunen of Leetonia are noted for control, smart pitching and consistent hurling.

TAKING ALL THIS into consideration and then looking down the list of the balance of the nine-team league, there isn't much on which to decide. Power may well be packed into several of the new teams and only games at the park will determine just how much.

Listed below are the seven American league teams who have filed probable team rosters. Managers are emphatic in pointing out that "nothing is definite yet." Changes may and probably will come within the next few weeks.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have not as yet organized, but hope to field a team late next week for their opener. The Ohio Grill roster is not complete, either.

JAYCEES—Business Manager Lou Briskin; John McQuiston, pitcher; Dick McCarty, catcher; Lloyd Brunner, third base; Russ Hackett, shortstop; Jack Patterson, second base; Dave Briskin, first base; Darrel Rosenberry, roving short; William "Bud" Wagoner, outfield; Frank Diehl, outfield; Ray Yeager, outfield; Glenn Whinnery, outfield; Bob Stamm, outfield; Dick Boughton, outfield.

MULLINS—Manager Mike Schuller, non-playing; Patsy Konnerth; Jimmy Rogers; John Zines, pitcher; Jim Alaback; Vince Dominetti; Mike Guappone; Steve Zanko; Mike Oana; John Fukuaki and Bob Deeds. Positions undetermined.

WRESTLERS PLAN SATURDAY NIGHT SHOW HERE

When Salem wrestling fans turn out Saturday night at the Memorial building they will be seeing not one—but two—local boys in action.

Besides Frank "Toar" Julian 232-pound nationally known professional, Vic Tanski, a former Ohio State wrestling champion, will be performing for "the old home town."

Tanski, former resident here and employed at the Electric Furnace Co., was a member of the top-notch Buckeye wrestling squad when he attended Ohio State. He worked and lived in Salem for several years. Julian, featured man on Joe Kelley's Saturday treat, will tangle wits and muscle with Al Dunlap, a 240-pound demon from the Toronto, Canada, ranks.

Toronto, one of the most ardent wrestling cities on the circuit, has turned out some of the best the game has ever seen and Dunlap is labeled as "the corner" from that area.

Julian and Dunlap have wrestled on the same shows before but have never met each other in a match.

"Toar" Salem's 1935 football tackle, hasn't lost in his home town in two previous bouts and expects to maintain that record Saturday, although Dunlap may prove more difficult than giant Fred Von Schatt, who met Julian here a month ago.

Big "Toar" has arranged the match here Saturday, with Kelley's cooperation, to bid a temporary farewell to Salem. He plans to leave early next week for the West, where he is contracted for a series of matches with the best in that area of wrestling enthusiasm.

Tanski, who tips the scales at a mere 212—comparatively light for the grunt and groan game—and features the tougher holds, will be tangling with

Fred Bozick, 10 pounds heavier and a native of Cleveland. Both are top crowd pleasers on the big time circuit and should give fans here an equal to the entertaining two-match affair presented here last month.

An exceptionally large crowd is expected Saturday with both Toar and Tanski on the card. Kelley is handling ticket sales and reports today that a goodly share of the ducats are already gone, but he expects good seats to be on sale at the gate Saturday night.

Two Salem High lads will battle in a 10-minute curtain raiser.

Only three southpaws, Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer, Pittsburgh's Fritz Ostermuller and Chicago's Bob Chipman, have dropped decisions to the Redbirds, but neither has to be ashamed of his performance. Vander Meer, beaten 4-0, was the hardest hit of the trio.

The latest lefty to haunt the Cards was Dave Koslo, New York Giants hopeful, who handcuffed them with four hits yesterday and whipped them, 5-1, to knock St. Louis out of a first place tie with Brooklyn.

Other left-handers to beat the Cards this year were Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and Pittsburgh's Ken Heintzelman, who achieved the feat twice. Slated to face St. Louis today was Brooklyn's little lefthander, Vic Lombardi.

Giants Smashed Jinx

The Giants not only handed the Cards their third straight defeat, but had the satisfaction of knocking off an old nemesis when they drove Pitcher Harry Brecheen off the hill with a four-run uprising in the ninth inning which snapped a 1-1 deadlock. Prior to yesterday's game, Brecheen had beaten the Giants six times without a setback since he entered the league in 1943.

The Dodgers came from behind to shackle the Cubs, 3-2, when Billy Herman, a former Bruin, hit a pinch single in the eighth inning to bat across Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker with the tying and winning runs. Reiser and Walker had opened the fatal round with consecutive singles. Art Herring, 391 year-old relief artist, replaced starter Kirby Higbe for the Dodgers in the fifth frame and held the Cubs scoreless the rest of the way to earn his first decision.

Boston's favorite pin-up boy, Teddy Williams, slammed a 10th inning home run to give the American league leading Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers and a clean sweep of the three game series. Tex Hughson, seeking his fourth mound triumph and the Red Sox seventh in a row, appeared to have the game well in hand as his mates provided him with an early 4-0 lead, largely due to Catcher Hal Wagner's three-run homer. The Boston ace however blew the lead in the eighth and Lefty Clem Dreisewerd had to come to his rescue. Dreisewerd was credited with the win.

Chandler Notches No. 4

The Yankees clung close to the Sox heels by trimming the Cleveland Indians, 8-2, behind the effective nine-hit hurling of Spud Chandler, who became the first big league moundman to register four victories.

Banged around for two straight days by the Philadelphia Athletics, the St. Louis Browns finally came to life with a 16-hit barrage against a trio of Mackmen hurlers to defeat their tormentors, 10-3.

Lefty Fritz Ostermuller pitched a steady game against the Philadelphia Phillies while his Pittsburgh Pirate mates took advantage of a big five-run frame to topple the Phils, 8-3. It was the Phils' 10th loss in 13 games.

The scheduled Boston Braves-Cincinnati Reds contest was rained out.

FLANAGAN TO PITCH

Dick Flanagan, youthful right-hander, has been named to hurl against the Salem team, Fish said. Keith Spriggle and Don Francis are other Cuyahoga Falls hurlers.

Nick Pappas, former Akron North High baseball coach, will be at first. Vern Massie, former Falls High school player, at second. Bob Murray at shortstop and Merrill Crawl, a newcomer from Alliance at third. Bill Lane will do the catching.

Wilbur Owens, Clint Emmerich and Bob Fish will patrol the outfield. Emmerich is the Cuyahoga Falls High school baseball mentor.

Other league games booked Sunday include: Waynesburg at Marietta; Lisbon at Canton and Alliance at Dover.

Salem High's basketball coach, Bob Miller, is starting pitcher for the Dover league entry.

Lefty Dave Koslo Baffles Cardinals As Giants Shell Brecheen In 5-1 Conquest

By JOE REICHLER

It looked today as if the National league will southpaw the favored St. Louis Cardinals to death in an attempt to keep the Red Birds from wresting the pennant from the Chicago Cubs.

Inability to maintain their 617 seasonal pace against portsideers cost the Cards the flag last year and it may be the same story this year. In 33 decisions against unorthodox flingers in 1945, St. Louis managed to win 17, just one more game than it lost.

In 14 games this season, opposing managers have thrown eight left-handers against Eddie Dyer's sluggers and have been rewarded with four victories. Altogether the Cards have dropped five games, only one to a righthander.

Only three southpaws, Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer, Pittsburgh's Fritz Ostermuller and Chicago's Bob Chipman, have dropped decisions to the Redbirds, but neither has to be ashamed of his performance. Vander Meer, beaten 4-0, was the hardest hit of the trio.

SHS Track Team to Participate In McKinley Relays Saturday

Cope's Charges To Enter Two Men In Each Event

Heartened by their recent victory over Struthers and Warren in a triangular meet, Coach Fred Cope's Salem High tracksters will travel to Canton Saturday to participate in a six-team invitational meet in Canton McKinley's Fawcett stadium.

Beginning in the afternoon, the following 14 events will be held: Shot put, pole vault, 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash, mile run, discus, half-mile relay, 440-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles, half-mile run, broad jump, 220-yard dash, shuttle hurdles and mile relay.

Each school is required to enter two men in each event with each race to be run in two heats. Heats will be run as separate races and points awarded accordingly.

In the field events, however, the average height or distance of a team's best two efforts will count. The half-mile relay will be run in two heats against time with three teams in each heat.

In addition to Salem and Canton McKinley, host team, Canton Lehman, Akron East, Louisville and Youngstown South are entered. South replaced Boardman when Lowell "Rib" Allen decided to take his charges to the Martins Ferry relays.

Canton McKinley, sparked by Sprinter J. V. Clifford who recently set a new school mark in the 100-yard dash at 9.9 seconds, looms as the favorite.

Cope will enter the following men in their respective events: 100-yard dash—Danny Smith and Dan Crawford.

220-yard dash—Bill Ward and Dick Gottschling.

440-yard dash—Dan Crawford and Howard Herrington.

880-yard dash—Bob Little and Glen Thorne.

120-yard high hurdles—Johnny Stoita and either John Huddleston or Ted Boone.

220-yard low hurdles—Bill Ward and Stoita.

Shot Put—Walt Krause and Aubrey "Pete" Cain.

High Jump—Bob Boone and Lozier.

Broad Jump—Dick Theiss and Bob Boone.

Pole Vault—Roessler and either Jim Jensen or Virgil Kelly.

Half-mile Relay—Smith, Don Coppock, Boone and Gottschling.

Mile Relay—Ray Snyder, Coppock, Herrington and Dan Crawford.

Shuttle Hurdle Relay—Bob Boone, Ward, Stoita and either Theiss or Huddleston.

Cope's discs entry is uncertain since Bob Payer, the Quakers top platter ace, will not be able to compete due to scholastic difficulties.

Scores will be computed on a 6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. Ribbons will be awarded winners of the first five places in each event.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BILLY HERMAN, Dodgers—His pinch hit single scored two runners in eighth inning to give the Dodgers a 3-2 victory over the Cubs.

DAVE KOSLO, Giants—Limited the Cardinals to four hits in pitching the Giants to a 5-1 victory. HANK CAMELLI and BOB ELIOTT, Pirates—Their triples in the second inning featured a five-run rally and won for the Pirates, 8-3, over the Phils.

TED WILLIAMS, Red Sox—His 10th inning homer gave the Sox a 5-4 decision over the Tigers.

NICK ETTEN, Yankees—Belted a grand slam homer to highlight an eight-run fourth inning which was enough to beat the Indians 8-2.

WALTER JUDNICH, Browns—Collected four hits to lead the Browns to a 10-3 victory over the Athletics.

Fat and Sassy

Upon what meat doth this Dizzy feed that he has grown so great? Yes, it's Jerome Dizzy Dean in the flesh—and how in it! Once great fastball pitcher, now a radio sports announcer, takes his expanding frame into Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, to try again a little of the exercise which kept him slim in the old days.

Nick Etten, Yankee first baseman, cracked a grand-slam home run with the bases loaded in the fourth frame to clinch the deciding game of the three-game set for the Yankees.

Spud Chandler scattered nine hits to gain his fourth straight victory as Reynolds was charged with his second loss in three starts for the fifth-place Indians.

LORD BOSWELL NAMED FAVORITE IN DERBY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3.—Indicating just how wide open this 72nd Kentucky Derby really is, the sports writers assembled in Derbytown today favored sleek, sturdy Lord Boswell to win the $100,000 run tomorrow, but gave a chance to at least seven other horses to take the pot.

Of 55 sports writers, radio men and associated "experts" balloting in the annual Associated Press derby poll, 21 picked Lord Boswell to finish on top.

Eight thought Charles Fisher's speedy Spy Song would do it; seven others polled for William Dupont, Jr.'s Hampden; five voted for Lord Boswell's running mate, Knockdown; three each went to

HAVING CONSIDERED THE National softball league personnel yesterday, a glance over the American league rosters also shows a considerable number of newcomers to Class A at Centennial park this summer.

Again, picking the best is a tough proposition. However, it is easy to see at a glance that the returning 1945 teams in the American league—the Sinclair Oilers, Leetonia Crescents, Mullins and Eagles—are going to be well represented again this season.

CONJECTURE AS TO WHICH of the teams has the most all-around power brings to light several angles. In the first place, it is generally conceded that Mullins, with Johnny Zines on the mound, has the best pitching available in the league. But Mullins lacks power in departments in which others are well-stocked.

For instance: Leetonia's Crescents and the Championship Sinclair are both extremely well-balanced clubs, especially in fielding and hitting. Neither outfit boasts a speedy pitcher, but both Chet Brautigam of Sinclair and John Clunen of Leetonia are noted for control, smart pitching and consistent hurling.

TAKING ALL THIS into consideration—and then looking down the list of the balance of the nine-team league, there isn't much on which to decide. Power may well be packed into several of the new teams and only games at the park will determine just how much.

Listed below are the seven American league teams who have filed probable team rosters. Managers are emphatic in pointing out that "nothing is definite yet." Changes may and probably will come within the next few weeks.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have not as yet organized, but hope to field a team late next week for their opener. The Ohio Grill roster is not complete, either.

JAYCEES—Business Manager Lou Briskin; John McQuiston; pitch; Dick McArthur, catcher; Lloyd Brunner, third base; Russ Hackett, shortstop; Jack Patterson, second base; Dave Briskin, first base; Darrel Rosenberg, roving short; William "Bud" Wagner, outfield; Frank Diehl, outfield; Ray Yeager, outfield; Glenn Whinnery, outfield; Bob Stamm, outfield; Dick Boughton, outfield.

MULLINS—Manager Mike Schuller, non-playing; Patsy Konnerth; Jimmy Rogers; John Zines, pitch; Jim Alaback; Vince Dominetti; Mike Guappone; Steve Zatzko; Mike Oana; John Pukalski and Bob Deeds. Positions undetermined.

Lefty Dave Koslo Baffles Cardinals As Giants Shell Brecheen In 5-1 Conquest

By JOE REICHLER

It looked today as if the National league will southpaw the favored St. Louis Cardinals to death in an attempt to keep the Red Birds from winning the pennant from the Chicago Cubs.

Inability to maintain their 617 seasonal pace against portside cost the Cards the flag last year and it may be the same story this year. In 33 decisions against unorthodox flingers in 1945, St. Louis managed to win 17, just one more game than it lost.

In 14 games this season, opposing managers have thrown eight left-handers against Eddie Dyer's sluggers and have been rewarded with four victories. Altogether the Cards have dropped five games, only one to a right-hander.

Only three southpaws, Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer, Pittsburgh's Fritz Ostermueller and Chicago's Bob Chipman, have dropped decisions to the Redbirds, but neither has to be ashamed of his performance. Vander Meer, beaten 4-0, was the hardest hit of the trio.

The latest lefty to haunt the Cards was Dave Koslo, New York Giants hopeful, who handcuffed them with four hits yesterday and whipped them, 5-1, to knock St. Louis out of a first place tie with Brooklyn. Other left-handers to beat the Cards this year were Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and Pittsburgh's Ken Heintzleman, who achieved the feat twice. Slated to face St. Louis today was Brooklyn's little left-hander, Vic Lombardi.

Giants Smashed Jinx
The Giants not only handed the Cards their third straight defeat, but had the satisfaction of knocking off an old nemesis when they drove Pitcher Harry Brecheen off the hill with a four-run uprising in the ninth inning which snapped a 1-1 deadlock. Prior to yesterday's contest, Brecheen had beaten the Giants six times without a setback since he entered the league in 1943.

The Dodgers came from behind to shackle the Cubs, 3-2, when Billy Herman, a former Bruin, hit a pinch single in the eighth inning to bat across Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker with the tying and winning runs. Reiser and Walker had opened the fatal round with consecutive singles. Art Herring, 391 year-old relief artist, replaced Starter Kirby Higbe for the Dodgers in the fifth frame and held the Cubs scoreless the rest of the way to earn his first decision.

Boston's favorite pin-up boy, Teddy Williams, slammed a 10th inning home run to give the American league leading Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers and a clean sweep of the three game series. Tex Hughson, seeking his fourth mound triumph and the Red Sox' seventh in a row, appeared to have the game well in hand as his mates provided him with an early 4-0 lead, largely due to Catcher Hal Wagner's three-run homer. The Boston ace however blew the lead in the eighth and Lefty Clem Dreisewerd had to come to his rescue. Dreisewerd was credited with the win.

The Yankees clung close to the Sox heels by trimming the Cleveland Indians, 8-2, behind the effective nine-hit hurling of Spud Chandler, who became the first big league moundsman to register four victories.

Banged around for two straight days by the Philadelphia Athletics, the St. Louis Browns finally came to life with a 16-hit barrage against a trio of Macken hurlers to defeat their tormentors, 10-3. Walt Judnich, with four safeties including a two-bagger, led the St. Louis assault. The victory moved the Browns into the first division, replacing Cleveland.

A steady game against the Philadelphia Phillies while his Pittsburgh Pirate mates took advantage of a big five-run frame to topple the Phils, 8-3. It was the Phils' 10th loss in 13 games.

The scheduled Boston Braves-Cincinnati Reds contest was rained out.

ATHLETICS BEGIN LEAGUE SEASON AT PARK WITH FALLS

Cuyahoga Falls Opener to Be Played At Centennial At 2:30 Sunday

Scott Chisholm's Salem A. C. baseball team, hoping to get off to a red-hot start in the new Eastern Ohio league, will meet Cuyahoga Falls here at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

With their ace, Frank "Lefty" Smith, slated for action on the mound, Chisholm's team will be opening the 1946 season officially, although it has played warm-up games here on earlier Sundays with Lisbon and Marlboro.

The league opener for Salem was originally scheduled for Cuyahoga Falls, but the game was shifted here when the Falls manager, Gordon Fish, announced that the diamond there is not yet ready for play.

Flanagan To Pitch
Dick Flanagan, youthful right-hander, has been named to hurl against the Salem team, Fish said. Keith Spriggle and Don Francis are other Cuyahoga Falls hurlers.

Nick Pappas, former Akron North High baseball coach, will be at first. Vern Massie, former Falls High school player, at second. Bob Murray at shortstop and Merrill Crawl, a newcomer from Alliance at third. Bill Lane will do the catching.

Wilbur Owens, Clint Emmerich and Bob Fish will patrol the outfield. Emmerich is the Cuyahoga Falls High school baseball mentor.

Other league games booked Sunday include: Waynesburg at Marlboro; Lisbon at Canton and Alliance at Dover.

Salem High's basketball coach, Bob Miller, is starting pitcher for the Dover league entry.

SOFTBALL NOTES

The Ohio Grill and Sinclair will play a practice game at Centennial park at 6 tonight.

The scheduled Boston Braves-Cincinnati Reds contest was rained out.

SHS Track Team to Participate In McKinley Relays Saturday

Cope's Charges To Enter Two Men In Each Event

Heartened by their recent victory over Struthers and Warren in a triangular meet, Coach Fred Cope's Salem High tracksters will travel to Canton Saturday to participate in a six-team invitational meet in Canton McKinley's Fawcett stadium.

Beginning in the afternoon, the following 14 events will be held: Shot put, pole vault, 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash, mile run, discus, half-mile relay, 440-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles, half-mile run, broad jump, 220-yard dash, shuttle hurdles and mile relay.

Each school is required to enter two men in each event with each race to be run in two heats. Heats will be run as separate races and points awarded accordingly.

In the field events, however, the average height or distance of a team's best two efforts will count. The half-mile relay will be run in two heats against time with three teams in each heat.

In addition to Salem and Canton McKinley, host team, Canton Lehman, Akron East, Louisville and Youngstown South are entered. South replaced Boardman when Lowell "Rib" Allen decided to take his charges to the Martins Ferry relays.

Canton McKinley, sparked by Sprinter J. V. Clifford who recently set a new school mark in the 100-yard dash at 9.9 seconds, looks as the favorite.

Cope will enter the following men in their respective events:

100-yard dash—Danny Smith and Dan Crawford.
220-yard dash—Bill Ward and Dick Gottschling.
440-yard dash—Dan Crawford and Howard Herrington.
880-yard dash—Bob Little and Glen Thorne.

Mile Run—Glen Thorne and Dick Tolson.
120-yard high hurdles—Johnny Stoita and either John Huddleston or Ted Boone.

220-yard low hurdles—Bill Ward and Stoita.
Shot Put—Walt Krause and Aubrey "Pete" Cain.
High Jump—Bob Boone and Lozier.

Broad Jump—Dick Theiss and Bob Boone.
Pole Vault—Roessler and either Jim Jensen or Vingil Kelly.

Half-mile Relay—Smith, Don Coppock, Boone and Gottschling.
Mile Relay—Ray Snyder, Coppock, Herrington and Dan Crawford.
Shuttle Hurdle Relay—Bob Boone, Ward, Stoita and either Theiss or Huddleston.

Cope's discs entry is uncertain since Bob Payer, the Quakers top platter ace, will not be able to compete due to scholastic difficulties.

Scores will be computed on a 6-5-4-3-2-1 basis. Ribbons will be awarded winners of the first five places in each event.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BILLY HERMAN, Dodgers—His pinch hit single scored two runners in eighth inning to give the Dodgers a 3-2 victory over the Cubs.

DAVE KOSLO, Giants—Limited the Cardinals to four hits in pitching the Giants to a 5-1 victory.
HANK CAMELLI and BOB ELIOTT, Pirates—Their triples in the second inning featured a five-run rally and won for the Pirates, 8-3, over the Phils.

TED WILLIAMS, Red Sox—His 10th, inning homer gave the Sox a 5-4 decision over the Tigers.
NICK EITEN, Yankees—Belted a grand slam homer to highlight an eight-run fourth inning which was enough to beat the Indians 8-2.

Don't Drive Auto When Drowsy, Plea

Handling a modern automobile seems like a child's task, but according to Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club, it is much more than that.

It is estimated that from 15,000 to 25,000 moves of the steering wheel are made in a 350-mile drive. These moves, along with braking, shifting of gears, watching side roads, oncoming traffic, pedestrians, and other driving actions will cause fatigue in the most capable driver. Tiredness dulls perception of what may be taking place on the roadway up ahead and the driver cannot think or act as quickly as under normal circumstances.

The commercial driver (truck driver to some) doesn't take chances very often. When he feels drowsy, he pulls off the road and takes a cat-nap. He may be a bit late on his schedule, but he doesn't have an accident and ruin a valuable piece of equipment.

Good passenger car drivers might well follow his example—cars are going to be scarce, too, for a while, and you can only be killed in a traffic accident once! Don't take chances when drowsy!
